

News from HEADINGTON PARTNERSHIP : EXTENDED SERVICES

THE CIAO! ARK Wednesday 23 – Sunday 27 June

A five day family celebration of arts and environmental science

Although none of the Headington schools has been involved in this sustainability project, it will still be worth a visit.

You will find the Ark on the lawn in front of the Oxford University Museum of Natural History/Pitt Rivers, Parks Road along with associated craft and music workshops, music and storytelling performances. Visitors will be able to pre-book for a half hour slot on the day, from the box office outside the museum. Or you can join a queue at any time, during general public opening hours. There is a limited capacity, so please allow plenty of time for waiting! There will be more information about the family friendly events at the beginning of next week.

COWLEY ROAD CARNIVAL Saturday 3 – Sunday 4 July

WHAT DADS NEED TO KNOW Saturday 26 June 10.00-2.00

Bonn Square, Oxford

The launch of a new booklet and website by and for all Dads in Oxfordshire, with activities for all the family

The aim of the event, website & leaflet is to help dads, whether dads, stepdads or granddads, to find the information they need in order to have fun with their children, and to look after them and themselves, as dads. The booklet contains valuable information for all dads about the services available to them and the activities that they can do with their children across the county – particularly young Dads
